

Voices from the Valley is a grass roots group of fine individuals that are seeking ways in which the Rio Grande Valley can secure a public radio station that reflects the rich culture, addresses pressing community issues, and secures a high quality of life.

Our goals are to:

- Secure a NPR station that gives a local voice to the Valley
- Loud and clear give the Valley a voice in national issues like the border wall,
- Serve the non-profit organizations to inform people of the Valley about the services, educational benefits, cultural contributions, and just plain fun things they do to maintain and improve the quality of life in the Valley

What we are asking from you....

We need 200 people to pledge their support for a public radio station. We do this because raising the initial funds is one large task, but the larger task is sustaining a public radio station.

We need your pledge of support that you will provide energy, resources, become a member, and even support us financially to keep the station serving the Valley.

How you can vote:
